Sam Kaluna Freed On Murder Charge.

MR. PETERS MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

Other Cases of No Great Moment. Kohala District Dry Place for Litigants.

(Special Correspondence.)

KOHALA, Hawaii, Oct. 10.-Court was pened by the sheriff of Hawaii, L. A. Andrews, Hon, W. S. Edings presiding, and Carl S. Smith, Esq., representing the government by special appointment from the attorney general. The grand jury was called and charged, immediately after which it set to work on the numerous cases brought before it, among charged after reporting its indictments n court on Monday morning,

The first case tried was that of Territory of Hawaii against Sam Kaluna, ndicted for murder in the first degree, for killing a Japanese by name of Yoshida Sakichi, at Naalehu, Kau, on the night of July 1st, this year. The case pointed Mr. Peters, of the firm of Andrews, Peters & Andrade, of Honolulu, and Mr. Ridgway, of Ridgway & Ridgway, Hilo, to defend him, Mr. Smith ably presented and prosecuted the case for the government, w....e Mr. Peters acively defended the accused murderer, and even with the great disadvantage of absolutely no preparation, nor had the sheriff summoned one single person as a witness for the defendant from the district in which the crime was committed, good defense was made in the crossexamination of the prosecution's main witnesses, breaking down their testimony, and the jury brought in a verdic and honest interest in the case in the three days' hard work put upon him by the Court, called forth a much merited thanks and congratulations from the Court, which Judge Edings tendered him from the bench. The prisoner showed als very first signs of weakness in the case when he heard the verdict and his lischarge, in his pleasant aloha to the ury, with tears of joy streaming from is eyes. There is a general feeling among the people from Kau that the heriff's department could have secured evidence of the strongest character gainst the persons who committed the nurder, but their efforts seem to rest on he one man, Sam Kaluna, without folowing up other clews.

Other criminal cases are following in heir turn, mostly small matters, one of mbezzlement to be heard yet, which is f some importance.

The Kohala district is extremely dry ind dusty and the large number of peo ple gathered from other parts of the Island naturally express much sympa thy for so dry a country, especially thosfrom the district of Hilo. However, the sincere sympathy of the people to their visitors more than compensates for the

CHINESE MINORS CANNOT ENTER

Treasury Department Reverses a Former Ruling Made Some Weeks Ago.

Collector Stackable has received from the Collector of the Port at San Francisco a decision by Assistant Secretary Taylor of the Treasury Department recersing a former ruling, in which it parents residing in the United States sould be permitted to land without cer-

The Chronicle says of the matter:

The opinion upon which the Treasury Department's ruling admitting these minors was made was written by the acting Solicitor-General of the departnent. The matter was referred last week to the Attorney General, who holds now that the ruling cannot be maintained, as it would render nugatory, in great measure, the exclusion which will do the subject justice. His laws against Chinese laborers. Many wonderful photo of Honolulu, the larg-Chinese persons, though possibly minor children of parents residing here, are in reality old enough to work, and are as a matter of fact, laborers and selffront rank of his profession. It is not supporting. They come here to labor and not to receive the protecting care of their parents. The decision of the Supreme Court upon which the acting Solicitor-General gave the opinion that the Treasury will have a series of photos equal to Department had no alternative but to admit minor Chinese persons, contemplated the substantial unity of the family under the exclusion laws, and held that the wife and minor children f a Chinese merchant resident in this the pure juice of the grape fruit. country were entitled to join him here without taking out certificates. The Chinese Bureau at this port got word that this ruling has been made mown in China, and that hundreds of ble-bodied young men were preparing to take advantage of this new method of evading the exclusion laws. The lays. Even during the brief time that the ruling has been in effect many laporers have gained entrance into this country on the plea that they were joining their parents.

sudden stoppage of the influx will be the result. The department has beome aware that many of the appliants for entry were strong young men who needed no parental care. In nany cases the older sons of Chinese erchants have come here, fully able work, while the younger children ave remained in China in the care of their mother. Very few cases have ome up where both parents of minor children resided in this country. In nost cases the father only was here.

Thus far few girls have sought adnission under the Treasury ruling, and these were of tender age, coming under the rule as contemplated by the Supreme Court. But it is believed that numbers of young women, to be imported for immoral purposes, were be ing gathered in China for shipment to San Francisco. The cancellation of the ruling makes this impossible, and averts a situation that might easily have made the exclusion laws a farce. The department will now return to ts former order, under the decision of the Supreme Court, admitting only those minor children who are of tender years and really requiring parental
